The Golden Husky Award

In April of 2008, the University of Washington Bothell held its Annual Chancellor's Recognition Reception at the Chateau Ste. Michelle Winery. This was an opportunity to celebrate the impact that friends and supporters have made on the University and the people in the community. Deanna Vesco writes in to share her experience there.

Dear NSNA,

I was invited to attend the University of Washington, Bothell Campus' Chancellor's Recognition Reception on April 18th this year. At the event, individuals and organizations were acknowledged for their support of UWB; and I was identified as a representative of NSNA for your support of the nursing program. I am sure NSNA deserves this, the Golden Husky Award, not I. So, I am forwarding it to you on behalf of UWB and Mary Barini, the nursing program director.

Thank you for receiving it and thank you NSNA for having given me opportunities like this.

Sincerely,
Deanna Vesco

The National Student Nurses' Association would like to thank Deanna Vesco for forwarding the award she received from the University of Washington Bothell. NSNA is proud of Deanna's accomplishments and we are happy to receive the award from her. Keep up the great work! ☺

Correction from the Editor

On page 66 of the Sept/Oct 2008 issue (Vol. 55, No. 4) we neglected to print the name of Marcia Weiser, BSN, RN, who wrote the Back to School column "KIWIS PLeaSe – The Basics for New Student Nurses." We apologize to Marcia Weiser for this oversight.
